Questions Put by Laymen.

The material points of Dr. Cook's answers today did not differ in a great degree from his original recital. Some sight details were cleared up, however, which thow light on the way in which the polar dash was affected. As the questions asked were put by laymen, ther did not go deeply into the scientific aspect of the expedition. But Dr. Cook was ready to answer anything pertinent to the issue.

Explorer Produced His Diary.

The most interesting phase of the in-terview was reached when Dr. Cook was asked if he would object to show-ing his diary. He immediately con-sented, and after retiring to his room, returned with a small note book which he showed freely to all. It was a thin book containing 175 pages, such of book containing 175 pages, each of which was filled with fifty or sixty lines of pencilled writing in the most minute characters. The book, he said, contained considerably more than one hundred thousand words, while he has besides other books embracing his obbesides other books embracing his ob-ervations and other data. He did not show them, however, today. Questions Answered Without Hesitan-

As question after question was asked, whether it was of a trivial nature or of a more serious trend. Dr. Cook answered in a lew voice without hesitancy, as though in full possession of all his facts.
The interviewers

The interviewers were rather severe in regard to details, but nothing indicated that the polar traveler's memory was at fault, even in the most minute particulars. Sometimes when a petty question showed ignorance he smiled with good humored sympathy at the want of technical knowledge displayed. Occasionally when a question was long and complicated, he asked for its repetition. for its repetition.

Showed Utmost Patience.

Not once did he refuse to reply ex-ecpt when the name of Commander Peary was broached. Even then he reary was proached, even then he said that he had always considered Peary his friend, but controversial subjects in connection with his rival he avoided, saying that they could wait. Throughout the interview he exhibited utmost patience.

Why Secrecy Was Imposed on Whitney and Others.

When requested to say what occur-red at his meeting with Harry Whit-ney, the New Haven sportsman, he said he preferred to let Whitney tell his he preferred to let Whitney tell his own story, because Whitney was quite unbissed. His reasons in imposing secrecy on Whitney, on Pritchard, Commander Peary's cabin boy, and the Eskimos were prompted by his desire to be the first to tell the world of his discovery. He did the work, he said, and was entitled to relate how it had been carried out.

Some of the More Important Questions. Some of the more important ques-tions put to Dr. Cook during the inter-view, and his replies thereto, follow: Q. Did anything ever occur in the life of yourself, and Mr. Peary that would create an enmity or bitterness nothing whatever that I

Q. Do you look upon Commander Peary as a friend or as an enemy?

you had met him on your return to Etah?

A—No: he introduced himself, but I did not catch his name and did not know it until the following day.

Q—Did you know that Peary was going to start up at that time?

A—I did not know.

Q—What caused you to have such confidence in Mr. Whitney that you entrusted your instruments to him?

A—I knew him by name and circumstances that arose while I was with him justified my confidence. I gave him the instruments to bring back because I thought they would be less liable to injury on board his vessel than if I took them across glaciers and rough ice-covered country.

Q—What is your opinion of the story told by the negro Hansen of the information he obtained from your two Eskimos?

Eskimos?

A—Weil, the Eskimos were bound down by me not to tell anyone where they had been. I should like you to have Hanson here and cross question him yourself. Hanson's testimony is entirely founded on hearsay.

Q—Knowing that a ship was coming north this summer, why did you not wait for that ship and come direct to New York instead of going to South Greenland and sailing from there to Copenhagen?

A—I knew that the Danish government ship would get me home before Whitney's ship.

Q—What instruments did you have with you from Cape Thomas Hubbarl and back?

A—Sextant, artificial horizon, three compasses, three chronomater watches, departure of the Aratic steamer Roosevelt was delayed tonight, awing to the fact that the records and other lunportant manuscripts which were taken from the Steamer yesterday by souvenir hunters have not been recovered. Valence, France, Sept 22.—A triple execution by guillotine took place in this city at daylight today. Three men, Berruyer, David and Liottard, were decapitated for a series of crimes in the department of Drome, which created a reign of terror. Twelve murders and two hundred robberies are laid at the doors of these men. They often tortured their victims with red-hot irons. A great crowd witnessed the executions and applauded every time the knife fell.

London, Sept. 22.—Ordinary imprisonment having falled to check rioting on the part of the "suffragettes." a magistrate at Birmingham this afternoon sentenced Mary Leigh and Charlotte Marsh, two of the ringleaders, in the outbreak at the meeting in Birmingham the night of September 17, when Premier Asquith delivered an address upon the budget, to two and three months at hard labor respectively. Another woman was given one month at hard labor, and others various terms of simple imprisonment.

PEARY SPEEDING WESTWARD TO HIS HOME IN EAGLE BAY. Receives Invitations to Lecture London and Edinburgh.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 22.—Commander Robert E. Peary had no further statements to make today regarding the polar controversy and while traveling westward to his home in Eagle bay from Sydney, spent the time going over his correspondence. The explorer with his family left Sydney early today and reached Truro tonight. Later the Peary party departed for Portland. A—Surveying compass; it had an azimuth attachment.

Commander Peary received the following telegram from William E. Hubbard of New York today:

"New York alumni, Alpha Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, vote fraternal congratulations on achievement."

An enthusiastic crowd which had gathered at New Glasgow to enliven the departure of two wedding couples, cheered Commander Peary and threw rice at his car windows. The explorer was given a round of applause when he appeared on the platform, thinking that the demonstration was in his houor alone, but he hastily retreated when he observed that he was in his houor alone, but he hastily retreated when he observed that he was in the midst of a wedding party. Adelbert H. Kenyon, 63 years old, tonight attempted to shoot Mrs, Minnic he has been staying, late today, and went to his room in the home of Thomas Ladd. Mrs. Chatfield, housekeeper at the Ladd home, became frightened at Kenyon's action and ran out of the house and across the yard to a neghbor's. Kenyon saw her and fired at her with a shotgun, but missed her. After firing at Mrs. Chatfield Kenyon discharged his gun time after

For the first time the president trav-lled through the Grand Canyon of elled through the Grand Canyon of the Arkansas where at one place the half mile deep canyon is so narrow that there is not room for the track-and the river and the former has to be carried over the rushing waters by means of a hanging bridge, sus-pended by cables embedded in the rocky walls of the chasm. The eleven mile ride through the canyon was made by moonlight, the presidents train having left here at 5.40 p. m. and reaching the hanging bridge two hours later.

The president did not feel the altitude and at the end of his first week of "one night stands" he is in fine health despite the efforts of the hospitable west and its elaborate and never ending breakfasts, luncheons and dinners. Mr. Taft's voice also is in the best of condition. There was a little huskiness for a time but it has disappeared.

First Picturesque Coloring of the West. The presidential tour took on its first picturesque coloring of the west today, when 32 sheriffs of Colorado counties, in the costumes of the piains, counties, in the costumes of the plains, joined the party in a special car to act as a guard of honor to the president during his stay in the state. In khaki trousers, blue fiannel shirts, peaked hats, cartridge belts and with pistel handles protruding from holsters they surrounded the president at every stop. Advance arrangements had been made to provide mounts for the sheriffs and they had a bunch of bronches awaiting they had a bunch of bronches awaiting them at each city visited.

FOUND NEW ESKIMO TRIBE. Explorer Also Reports Discovery Copper in Prince Albert Land.

San Fradeisco, Sept. 22.-On whaler Jeannette, which arrived in this port yesterday, was W. J. Bower, an Arctic explorer, who reports the discovery of a trip of Eskimos who, according to his statement, live on a point of Prince Albert Land.

They call themselves Nunacaotics, are tall, and look like North American Indians. The explorer was cordially welcomed by them, and he procured many rich furs.

From the town of the Nunacaotics ower proceeded farther north, where he discovered immense copper deposits. On this trip he lost an eye through the bite of a spider. This was not the end of Bowers' troubles, for after the end of Bowers troubles, for after the eyeball was removed by the crude surgery of an Eskimo, the schooner used by the party was wrecked and the adventurers had to walk 136 miles to Point Barrow, where they were taken on board the Jeannette.

MAKES KNOWN PLANS FOR THE BIG CELEBRATION.

WILL ATTEMPT A FLIGHT

From Governors Island Across Lower Bay and Around the Statue of Liberty-Wilbur Wright and Curtis Meet

New York, Sept. 22.—A flight from Governors Island across the lower bay and around the Statue of Liberty will probably be the first feat in aviation during the Hudson-Fulton celebration. Glenn H. Curtiss, winner of the first international aviation contest, announced today that he would attempt this flight as soon as possible after he had assembled his machine.

No III-Feeling Between the Wrights and Curtiss.

and Curtiss.

Wilbur Wright, who has his machine almost in flying shape, met Curtiss for the first time today since the latter returned from his European triumphs. The meeting, which took place in Wright's shed on Governors Island, was cordial. No ill-feeling exists because of the suit which the Wright brothers have brought against the Herring-Curtiss company for alleged infringement of patents. Wright asked Curtiss if he had found the information given him by the Wrights before Curtiss sailed for France of any value to him. Mr. Curtiss replied that he had, and further pleasantries were exchanged.

Ideal Grounds for Landing.

It was while inspecting the grounds t Governors Island with William J. at Governors Island with William J. Hammer of the Hudson-Fulton aviation committee that Curtiss made known his plan to fly around the Statue of Liberty. "These grounds are great," he said. "They are a little rough for starting, but they are ideal for landing."

The Machine Wright Will Use. The machine which Wilbur Wright will use is of exactly the same dimensions as that which his brother Orville used at Fort Myer last year indeed, it includes part of that ill-fated aeroplane which fell to earth, causing the death of Lieutenant Self-ridge of the signal corps. It is not as fast a machine as the one which has been sold by the Dayton brothers to the signal corps, but it is capable of carrying two men and of making a speed of between 38 to 40 miles an hour.

Curtiss will make ne flights in a wind of more than five or six miles, but it is likely that Wright may attempt flights in a higher wind if it is from a favorable direction. Wright's contract with the celebration committee requires a flight of one hour's du-ration, while Curtiss has the epition of making any flight which his judg-ment dictates.
